Temple Ewell & District Produce Association

The Autumn Show was the last show of 2014.

As a gardening club we have had a very good year with lot of really nice produce, flowers, cookery and children's entries.

We, the Committee, would like to thank firstly the competitors, for keeping up a very high standard of produce and cookery, and secondly you, the public, for supporting the Club.

The last item on the calender for the club is the Annual General Meeting on Monday the 27th October at 7.30pm in the Village Hall, where we will discuss the order of events for 2015. Please do come along and take part. You can also join the Club for the new year on the nightstill only £1.00!

Temple Ewell Players

Welcome Back!

Players have been on their summer break after our fantastic (but exhausting!) Spring Show 'Half a Sixpence' directed by Cindy Tuson. Well done to everyone involved in this challenging but thoroughly entertaining show. Looking ever forward, we are now back with a bang with our pantomime 'The Little Mermaid' directed by Tonia Watts.

We are starting earlier than usual as we are not doing an Autumn performance this year. The cast is now in place and we are well underway with rehearsals, working hard to bring the wonders of the ocean to Temple Ewell. Expect catchy songs, hilarious dialogue and of course a little Temple Ewell Players' Magic.

See you under the sea!

Rachel

Friday Club

September started with another afternoon at The Fox for a game of skittles & hot dog lunch. The weather seemed a bit dull to start with so we had our bingo and raffle inside, but as the afternoon wore on the sun came out and we were able to play skittles in the garden. We had two winners of £5 each and that was Audrey and Percy, so well done to you both.

On 26th we had our fish & chip lunch to celebrate Frank and Harry's 80th birthdays. This always goes down well and there was a cake to follow, baked by Marilyn, which was enjoyed by all.

Winter is fast approaching, so why not come along to the Village Hall on a Friday afternoon 1pm to 4pm and meet some new friends?. We are a friendly crowd and it would be nice to see some new faces.

With the evenings now drawing in, always leave a light on if you go out and carry a torch to show you the way.

Take care.

Seven Ages

Starring

Fresh from a sell out world tour to Canada, America,
New Zealand and Hong Kong!

Seven Ages explores the idea that we go through seven stages in life. From infancy - through love and wisdom - to growing old disgracefully!

Essentially a comedy - with touching moments in it - Seven Ages premiered at the Edinburgh Festival ; garnering 5 star reviews and achieving a sell out run. Transferring to London's West End, it received a standing ovation on it's opening and closing nights. Since then, it has been seen at over 300 venues across the UK and had sell out performances all over the world.

Seven Ages seeks to explore two of the most important questions in life: why am I here? and what's important in my life?, whilst simultaneously making you laugh. Whatever stage of life you're at, you'll love this show. Suitable for 6 - 106 year olds.

What the press have said:

Tomlinson reminds me of a young Robin Williams due to the electricity and enthusiasm he exudes. Definitely one of the most enjoyable feel-good shows around!

Parmount Comedy Channel *****

Heartwarming comedy theatre that all the family can - and certainly will -enjoy.

Evening Standard *****

Wonderfully inventive! Refreshingly honest. Demand a ticket.

See him when you can!

Comedy Magazine *****

Hilarious! Tomlinson has his audience laughing uncontrollingly!

Whatever your age, see Seven Ages!

We offer a small rural school with a good team of professionals and well behaved children. Children are good at caring for each other, learning is fun and each child is developed as an individual. We aim to equip children with essential skills that they can apply throughout their life.

OFSTED 2011 confirmed our ability to differentiate learning well for both age and ability. 'Pupils continue to make good progress through the school so that their attainment by the time they move to secondary school is generally above average'.

'There is a very positive engagement with parents and carers, with many commenting specifically on how well their child settled and is progressing'.

We have 'Share a class' sessions six times a year, where parents are invited in to learn alongside their children.

Simple though they may be, nevertheless how deeply true are the sayings such as 'We reap what we sow' and 'Give and you shall receive'. Quite possibly, and especially the latter, these truths have their roots in actions from the beginnings of our human history and the making of sacrifices from the fruits of harvest to 'Mother Earth' to ensure the continuing fertility of the land.

At Harvest time we give thanks to God for the gifts we receive and for those who work to bring us those good things we need and enjoy. However, thanksgiving continues to find it's best expression in the sharing of the gifts we have gratefully received – in the 'giving back' which still rightly mirrors something of those primitive but important actions. In whatever small way we 'give back' (Soup kitchen, Christian Aid, Food Bank or to neighbour) we do our best to turn away from selfishness and greed and express above all our gratitude for the blessing of being able to give.

Fr. Paul

P.S. As I write, (early for this Newsletter) the Gift Day donations have still to be opened and counted and are still coming in. However, on Gift Day I was greatly lifted in spirit by the warmth and generosity of so many. Thank you so very much. I was also very touched to be given the contents of our Youth Club's swear box. A special 'thank you' for their wanting to give this to me!

WW1 Commemoration

Saturday 23rd August

A quiet gathering of villagers assembled in the afternoon sunshine by the refurbished War Memorial, in the St. Peter & Paul Churchyard. They joined with many others to commemorate those who sacrificed their lives, and to remember those who served, during World War 1.

Proceedings were led by Father Paul who was accompanied by Colin Smithen, Chairman of our Parish Council, who read the names of the fallen - now so clear after restoration, and Jenny Miles gave the reading.

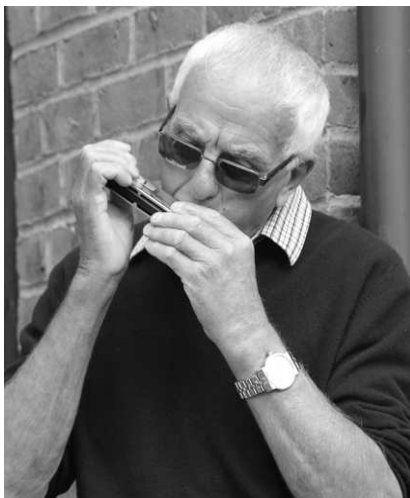

The Air Training Corps 354 Band were in attendance and provided excellent and very appropriate WW1 marching music to then lead the gathering up to Players' Corner where there was a further dedication service for the new Garden of Remembrance.

The Players contribution to this service was a lovely rendition of 'Keep the Home Fires Burning...' then this was followed by an emotional solo performance by Sophia Lyons of 'Smile'.

The afternoon continued with some energetic singing and entertainment by four Pearly Kings and Queens while the audience indulged in light refreshments including 'Trench' cake.....delicious!

To acknowledge the historical Christmas truce football match, two energetic teams, manned by local guys, played a very competitive game with the teams Yellow and Pink drawing 8 - 8. Well done to the Pink team who won on Penalties!

The afternoon was very memorable and moving and both services were appropriately sensitively and respectfully conducted. Members of The British Legion lowered the Colour in salute and played The Last Post and then the Reveille. Just what was required in remembrance of such a catastrophic event in our country's history.

RUBBISH

If you are like me then an email intake tends to build up because it is not regularly attended to. I am not sure of the capacity before it blows a fuse.

All aspects of our lives involve rubbish as is witnessed by the hordes of us at the Whitfield disposal site. It is very therapeutic when we throw the worn out and discarded into the skip.

We all have a rubbish intake into our inner lives and this also needs disposal or its build up can cause damage to our well being. There is a verse in the Bible which says "Cast all your cares on Jesus because he cares for you".

Our activities continue as usual:

Sunday Family Service: 10.30am

Monday Keep Fit: 7.30pm

Wednesday Bible Study and Prayer: 7.00pm

MESSY CHURCH on Sunday 12th October. 4.00 - 6.00pm. This is for children and adults and comprises about 1 hour of craft activities, 10 minute bible based talk, a full cooked meal. Please come.

We are here to serve you and if there is anything you wish to ask do not hesitate to contact Pat on 827341, Jack on 825150 or our minister Ewart Graham on 375823.

Temple Ewell W.I.

We met in September after our summer break. Our speaker, Judi Knight, talked about 'Eking out the Ration', an amusing and thought-provoking insight into the hardships suffered during WW 2, when lots of foodstuffs were hard to obtain and women had to stretch their budgets and imaginations to feed their families. Judi accompanied her talk with a demonstration of two dishes which would have been served; they were not very appealing at all!

Next meeting October 9th.

Vehicle excise duty was first introduced into the United Kingdom during 1889, but it was not until 32 years later from the 1st January 1921, did it become compulsory to display a tax disc on a vehicle. These tax discs, also known correctly as vehicle excise licences, were issued either quarterly or annually and were made of a paper disc that was unperforated and printed in black on a white background. In 1923 Britain was introduced to the first of the coloured tax discs, which were also perforated.

There have been approximately twelve subtly different designs of the disc from 1921 to the present day, the most striking change occurring from 1961, when the design was radically altered to start a style that is still vaguely similar today. Over those years many owners of vehicles have been either arrested or summonsed before a criminal court for the offences theft of a tax disc, fraudulent use of a tax disc, which was when a stolen tax disc was exhibited on another vehicle to give the impression to a passing police officer that that particular vehicle was taxed, when infact it was not, due to it displaying a stolen disc, or when the owner of two or more vehicles used a tax disc from one vehicle to display on another to evade buying a disc for the second vehicle.

Many serious crimes have been detected as a result of a stolen or different tax disc being fraudulently displayed on a vehicle, from an IRA bomber, I believe The Yorkshire Ripper was detained initially due to a different tax disc being displayed on the vehicle he was driving and not that long ago in Lincolnshire, a gang of Lithuanian car thieves, who were stealing good quality cars then 'ringing' them (altering the cars identity). The gang had gone to great lengths to alter engine, chassis and registration plate numbers, carrying out a convincingly professional job, only to get caught out by the police because they forgot to alter the registration number displayed on the tax disc. So 93 years after the issue and display of the first tax discs, from this October, we will be seeing the final issue of the disc that has been a part of our motoring history.

Oh no, before you start celebrating, you will still have to pay vehicle excise duty, but the perforated disc that has become part of our lives, will not be issued any-more for display on the vehicle.

So how do you know if someone has or has not paid their road tax? You won't. But if they have not paid, they will, for they will receive a fine through the post. For all vehicle documentation is recorded against individual vehicle files. As you drive around a town, travel along a motorway, visit a supermarket car park, go to a Port, visit a petrol station or travel through the Dartford Crossing, you will probably not realise, but your vehicle registration plate will be monitored many times over on your long or short journey by ANPR (automatic number plate reader). Many police cars carry them too. The ANPRs will flag to the authorities automatically if your vehicle is checked by one of these cameras and your vehicle file held at DVLA discloses you have failed to pay road tax on your car, or your car is declared SORNed when the camera views/ records of it on a road. Further if you fail to pay your road tax or sorn your vehicle, the DVLA will fine you by post.

You can not transfer road tax upon selling your vehicle, so you may need to consider selling your car close to when your car road tax is about to fall due for renewal.

A final word of advice for those who may live in their holiday home abroad, for a few months of the year and may keep a second car out there permanently, still registered on UK plates. Some countries, example France, the Police Nationale/ Gendarmerie determine whether your car is insured, incorrectly by looking to see if your tax disc is valid and if not displayed, or, out of date will often impound the vehicle never to be seen again. So if you have a UK registered car that remains permanently at your holiday home abroad, get it re-registered on the plates for that country so you do not fall foul of the local police and risk losing your vehicle.

Temple Ewell Bike Club

On Sunday 13th July (having recovered from a fabulous evening at Lounge on the Lawn) three of us from the Temple Ewell Bike Club, David Gavin, Chris Barnett and I, joined Channel Rotary for their annual Romney Marsh Cycle Challenge. Money was being raised for Kent Air Ambulance and once again over 500 riders took part. Rides were 10, 30 or 50 miles which ensured that everyone could enjoy a flat ride through the lanes of South West Kent.

We took the 50 Mile challenge, which was pretty gruelling as there were no hills to give us any respite from pedalling! However, we three completed in good time with the most excellent hot dogs at the pub at St Mary's-in-the-Marsh as a welcome reward! The Military Wives from Shorncliffe Camp were there to entertain the tired and exhausted throng on what turned out to be excellent weather conditions.

Next on our agenda will hopefully be the annual Kent Churches Bike Ride 13 September.....our highest achievement being me and Bob Potts visiting 23 churches about 4 years ago..... Now there's a challenge!!!

Hello Everyone

I am delighted to announce that we raised a record-breaking £126,500 from this year's Pilgrims Hospice Cycle Challenge! This is over £39,500 more than last year. Thank you so much to everyone who took part and who raised sponsorship money for Pilgrims Hospices.

The weeks following the ride were often turbulent and I know that many of you were disappointed with the original news, so quickly after the ride, that our beds in the Canterbury Hospice were being withdrawn. This decision has been reversed and this huge amount of money that you have raised is testament to the strength of your support and belief in the work that we do.

The team trophy was awarded to a team duo – Mike Howland and Sam Giles who raised £4651.

The costs for the Cycle Challenge were defrayed because of the very generous support of our sponsors: Barretts Group (Headline sponsor), London Array, Kent Construction Focus Group, Argentis Financial Services, Ovenden, Move-it Channel Moving, Noel Tatt and Biketart. We also do not pay organiser's fees which enables 100% of your registration fee and sponsorship to go directly into patient care.

The date for our 2015 ride has been set for Sunday 3rd May, so make a note in your cycling calendar for next year!

Thank you so much to those who supported Pilgrims Hospices by taking part in this year's ride and for making it the best ever in terms of participant numbers (nearly 1500) and definitely the best fundraiser.

I am leaving Pilgrims Hospices to pursue another fundraising role in a local charity, but my colleagues, Pam.Meller@pilgrimshospices.org and Emily.Worrell@pilgrimshospices.org are your points of contact in the Canterbury Fundraising Office going forward.

Very best wishes
Deborah Kellond

Well done all who took part - including our very own Temple Ewell Bike Club.

Part 1. The Professional Side of You (Taken from the diary 'Taking a Complement' 2002)

What makes a good Complementary Therapist?

I was often asked how could I sit and touch peoples' feet? and this remark was usually followed by a grimace.

Or what would I do if a client came with less than clean feet with or without an odour?

My initial and stock reply to the first question was 'Why not? Feet are part of one's anatomy so what is the difference between touching feet or touching someone's shoulder to comfort?' The second question? Well, I never experienced this situation. My guess would have to be to dig deep into the bag of diplomacy and tact.

Then did the situation you faced depend on whether the client drew attention to it? You couldn't, either way, put on a mask and/or gloves, the latter because a reflexologist needs their finger-tips to read the presented feet and how would you feel if a reflexologist did that to you?

There may be a valid reason for the odour, the type of smell could depend on a diabetic condition, therefore a client with that condition may feel unwell on that day and certainly not feel well enough to wash feet.

Depression also has a part to play – depression equals lethargy and lassitude – it can mean not bothering to wash generally as energy levels are too low to carry out the very act of washing. The spiral begins.

A lot of questions to ask yourself in a matter of minutes before making the decision whether to kindly suggest to the client they wash their feet whilst you washed your hands (how much easier and tactful then to have in your equipment box, a nice pack of cleaning wipes and tea tree oil?) whilst gently massaging their feet prior to and during the treatment. Comfort and sparing the client embarrassment. The odour could be due to Athletes Foot. A fungal, skin or nail, infection? Professionalism dictates your suggesting the treatment being delayed until this client had consulted their GP or Chiropodist.
